CARACOLE SET FOR SPRING 2021 COLLECTION LAUNCH

150+ new styles to be introduced in physical and virtual formats in High Point, NC

MAY 14, 2021, GREENSBORO, NC As a follow-up to an energetic Pre-Market in April, Caracole is poised to launch their new collection in both physical and digital formats during the pandemic-delayed High Point Market, scheduled for June 5 thru June 9, 2021. The new collection, a robust 150+ piece introduction, will be presented at their new showroom within the Markor Art Center (MAC). For those unable to attend in person, they have also created a comprehensive Virtual Market Portal; a digital hub that plays host to a 360° Virtual Tour, an editorially driven video by Business of Home featuring design star Michel Smith Boyd, along with editorial/technical photography and visuals, media/press materials, & much more.

"As the pandemic continues to challenge travel plans and in-person tours, we are bringing our collective Spring 2021 introductions and showroom platform to the masses, via an extensive digital experience," said Paul Seston, President of Caracole.

This Spring, Caracole is introducing 150+ styles that personifies many facets within the world of classic design. Elegant, yet experimental with a fresh take on emerging trends and mixed materials, this season's introductions offer a spectrum of styles for today's interiors. Elements of escapism and organic textures welcome in the natural world, while European design influences juxtapose crisp, clean forms with rounded edges and a subtle contrast of light and dark finishes. For those with a passion for classic Caracole style, you'll also find touches of glamour and Art Deco-inspired details, for a hint of glitz and livable luxury. Highlights include:
